Friendly food inn Eltham

At Eltham Friendly Inn you get the best of both worlds - friendly, traditional service harking back to the days of country taverns combined with food that's modern, fresh and exciting.

Owners Luci and Toby Black took over the country hotel 18 months ago and had previously leased out the restaurant until just recently, when they decided it was time to take the reins themselves. They extended trading hours to lunch and dinner seven days, released a new menu and took on two new local chefs.

Head chef is Rupert Stevens, who many locals might know from his time at Pogel's Wood Café in Federal, and sous chef Jason is from the Bellowing Bull Restaurant.

"We have a diverse mix of patrons and we kept this in mind when designing our menu," Luci said. "We have everything from a bar snack menu and restaurant menu to a specials board that's constantly changing and allows Rupert to be a little bit more creative."

Some of the specials this week included yellow-fin tuna on a soba noodle salad, as well as a Japanese roasted duck.

Meanwhile, the restaurant menu is filled with delicious dishes including a beautiful gorgonzola risotto with roasted field mushroom and USA style pork ribs, just to name a few.

The Eltham Friendly Inn has a quaint indoor dining room or you can relax in the beautiful beer garden and enjoy outdoor dining.

"We're trying to offer people a little bit of everything in an idyllic country setting" Luci said. "Whether you just want to come with mates on a Friday night for a beer, have a cruisy Sunday lunch with friends listening to live music or you want to hold a wedding function or birthday party, we cater for it all."

The Eltham Friendly Inn really does live up to its name, with free live music on Fridays and Sundays, trivia on Thursdays, modern gaming facilities and even a courtesy bus on the weekend.

Drop into the Eltham Friendly Inn (simply take the Eltham turn off just outside Bexhill) or to book a table or function, phone Luci on 6629 1217.

Need glasses? See Tracey!

Tracey Parish established her business Affordable Eyewear at her home in Coraki 12 months ago so she could provide quality eyewear and keep overheads to a minimum.

"I have had clients call me to say that they just saved over $300 on their new glasses they purchased from me - it's a great feeling hearing people so happy," Tracey said. "For example, if you're looking for a lounge most people would travel to compare prices. I would encourage people to do the same with their glasses as well."

As Tracey explains, it's really only a short drive to Coraki to save yourself money.

"At Affordable Eyewear we supply quality frames and lenses, and because I'm locally owned and working from home, rather than being corporate owned, I don't have anyone dictating what my prices should be," she said. "I'm not out to make a million dollars or do the hard sell, I'm just here to give people a cost-effective pair of glasses they can be happy with."

Tracey said since she started Affordable Eyewear she's "never had so many hugs and kisses" from satisfied customers, a nice change from her days with big chain stores.

Tracey said once people have their eyes tested and get a prescription it's a good idea to shop around and see the difference in prices. As a licensed optical dispenser Tracey can provide any type of lens or frame people require, and she carries designer frames right through to the budget conscious. People can also claim through their health fund with Hicaps available.

"One of the things people like is that when they call or visit they know they are going to talk to me and not a different face every time," Tracey said. "When people come here we sit down and have a conversation about what they need - it's not that pressure sale of get in and get out and sell them the most expensive pair you can. I'm really enjoying working from home and love that it makes other people happy."

For advice, information or to set up an appointment, phone Tracey today on 1300 336 997.
